ACADEMIC CALENDAR TASK FORCE (2014-15)

- Appointed in Fall 2014 by Provost Bras; Co-Chaired by Paul Kohn (VPES) and Steven Girardot (AVPUE)
- Concluded in Spring 2015 with four key recommendations that have been fully implemented as of Summer 2016:
  - Eliminated Dead Week; Replaced with Reading Periods and Final Instructional Class Days as well as “Wrap Around” Final Exam week
  - No final exams scheduled on Friday before commencement
  - Two additional class holidays incorporated into the calendar. Wednesday before Thanksgiving in fall semester and the day before or after the July 4 holiday in summer semester
  - Spring semester starts no earlier than the 2nd Monday of January
- Did not address daily class schedule or 15-minute pass time
NEW FINAL EXAM WEEK STRUCTURE
(BEGAN SPRING 2016)

 NOTE: Classes scheduled to meet after 6pm will have their final exams during the evening (Period IV) on the same day of the week as the class met during the term (Thursday or Friday of Week N-1 or Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday of Week N).

1. Appointed by Provost Rafael Bras and Executive Vice President for Administration and Finance Steve Swant in November 2015; completed work at the end of Spring 2016; finalized report in July 2016.

2. Key recommendations

- Classroom Scheduling re-aligned from Capital Planning and Space Management (CPSM) to the Registrar’s Office
- New Daily Scheduling Grid Introduced
  - 15-minute pass times between classes
  - 2-day week classes meet for 75 minutes/class (currently 80)
  - Friday Flexible Block - support a wide range of course types and delivery options
- Anticipated implementation: Fall 2017 (training on new grid and related procedures to begin immediately; being coordinated by the Registrar’s Office).
• Establish Instructional and Class Scheduling Subcommittee (ICSS) of the IUCC/IGCC
  • Cross-functional members include faculty and staff from CPSM, GTPE, and RO
  • Charge: Assists RO with enforcement of scheduling grid; Approves exceptions; Recommends Policy; Engages in Short- and Long-Term Planning
• Propose New Scheduling Policies and Practices
  • Anchor Courses – Priority for Scheduling/Rooms
  • Consistent approach to registration practices (wait lists, overloads/permits) as well as degree information (e.g., degree maps)
  • Long-term projected class schedules
• Identify Technology Resources
  • Plan for shared usage of EMS with Registrar’s Office by January 2017
  • What is needed to enhance existing tools? (e.g., BANNER, EMS, DegreeWorks)
  • What new tools may be needed?
3. Procedures and Policies for new Daily Scheduling Grid

- 18 standard time slots for 3-lecture-hour courses (figure on next slide)
  - Six 50-minute MWF time slots before 3:00 p.m.
  - Four 75-minute MW time slots after 3:00 p.m.
  - Eight 75-minute TuTh time slots
- Defined processes and time slots for other lecture courses and laboratories
- Courses MUST meet in standard time slots unless an exception is approved
- Anchor courses – fixed time and room assignments for multiple terms to facilitate student planning for critical courses
- Friday Flexible Block – possible innovative uses
  - 3-hour courses that travel off-campus to engage the community
  - Regular department/industry seminars and social events
  - Joint sessions of regular classes and executive/weekend programs

Flexible Block: 3:00-7:15
The campus culture around classroom scheduling MUST shift to a common good philosophy. As a campus community, we share classroom resources, and one unit’s or individual’s needs are not necessarily more important than those of another. This means that we have to compromise, with the priority of meeting needs first and then preferences when possible.
